New Incorporations.

Articles of incorporation of the Kennedy Extension Gold Mining Company were filed in the clerk's office on June 16. The purposes of the incorporation take a very wide range, including buying, selling and developing mining property, dealing in stocks of any corporation; to transact all kinds of agency business, to operate aqueducts, furnaces, mills, factories, refineries, docks, hotels, stores, etc., and carry on any other business. The principal place of business is San Francisco. The life of said incorporation is for fifty years. The directors for the first year are R. S. Penniman, Jacob Hulme, both of Berkeley, and H. G. Perry of San Francisco. The capital stock is $500,000 divided into 500,000 shares at $1 each. Each of the above named directors have subscribed for one share of stock.

Articles of incorporation of the Amador Electric Light and Power Company, were filed with the county clerk, April, 1909. The purposes are to acquire and dispose of electricity for lighting, power, and other purposes, to acquire and dispose of water-rights, reservoirs, ditches, power houses, electric telephone and telegraph lines, etc. The principal place of business is Sutter Creek, Amador county. The term is for 50 years. Five directors have been named for the first year as follows: W. J. McGee of San Francisco, B. C. Clark, P. J. Payne, Amy Pharis, and Minnie Provis, all of Sutter Creek. Capital stock is $90,000 in 90,000 shares at $1 each, and the five directors have subscribed for one share each.

Went Over the Dump.

Mike Lukich, car man at the Argonaut mine, met with a singular accident Sunday afternoon. He was running a car of rock to the waste dump. The car went clean over the dump, and Lukich did likewise, falling or sliding on the loose rock pile a distance of twenty or thirty feet. He was badly bruised about the face. The most serious injury was a cut across the forehead, caused probably by colliding with a sharp rock. Dr. Sprague dressed his wounds, and found that where the cut was a depression had been made in the skull. It will be brought in place without a surgical operation. The accident will lay the victim off for several weeks.

Taxpayers Notice

Give in your assessment by June 1st, so it can close the rolls.

JACKSON DEFEATED BY SACRAMENTO

In Baseball Contest Sunday.

Sunday afternoon there was a big turnout at the local grounds to witness the game between the Carmichael Baseball Club of Sacramento and the Jackson boys. Some of the players of the capital city were noted for their science in this particular sport. Jackson's, however, were not discouraged at the outlook. They had taken in about everything they ran up against for the season, and were confident of their ability to hold down the strangers from Sacramento. There were lots of rooters for either side on the ground; those from points outside of Jackson were in sympathy with the strangers, and shouted in their behalf. At the outset the Sacramento team secured a strong lead through some wild throwing by their adversaries, scoring several runs in this way. Jackson never recovered the lost ground. At the end of the game the score stood 12 to 8 in favor of Sacramento, the most signal defeat the home team has sustained this year.

Chamber of Commerce.

Regular meeting of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce was held Monday evening in the office of president C. P. Vicini. All directors present, except A. Ginocchio.

Bill of Vela & Piccardo for $2.75, for two record books, ordered paid.

The secretary submitted samples of letter heads as ordered at the previous meeting. It was decided to obtain cuts of the Kennedy mine and an agricultural scene and have same appear on letter head. A committee of three was appointed by the president to handle this matter, as well as the envelope. Directors Kuhser, Garbarini and Mason were appointed for this purpose.

The president exhibited a number of pamphlets gotten out by counties in California—Tehama, Imperial and others—and it was the generally expressed opinion that Amador county would do well to follow their example, that our county has a far greater and more varied assortment of inducements to offer the extending settler, which if properly presented in pamphlet form, with illustrated, might prove effective to lead the settler to our county. The necessity of a larger membership to meet an outlay of this nature, was at once apparent, and the directors were again exhorted to use every effort in their power, to bring in new members. The following names were added to the roll, and the fee of $1 paid by each, thus bringing the membership up to 101: Vincent Brignoli, F. N. Soracco, M. D. Nixon, L. F. Stinson, John Strohm, Podesta & Taylor, Joseph Gluckfield, Amador Lumber Co., G. M. Waechter, J. Chichizola.

In the judgment of the president the three main things to receive our early attention should be good roads, good educational facilities, and fair passenger and freight rates from outside points to points in Amador county.

Warrant books of 50 pages each were also to be ordered by the committee on letter heads and envelopes.

Teachers' Certificates Issued.

The board of education completed the examinations of papers submitted by the applicants for teachers certificates early this week. Certificates were granted to the following, for standing in the 26 subjects covered by the questions submitted. Alberta McVean, Cora J. McCulloh, Seva Murray, Lesley Hoyt, Elizabeth Sargent, Mary Shute, and Edith S. Campbell.

The following applicants received the necessary credits in ten or more subjects: Elsie Chitwood, Ethel M. Prouty, Sophie Taylor, Florence Gordon, Brya J. Porter, and Deila A. Carley. These will be permitted to take the examinations in the other subjects at the next meeting, and if successful will be awarded certificates without having to undergo an examination on the subjects in which they were successful at the recent examinations.

Abundance of Trout

At Silver Lake.

Chez Ardito went up to Silver Lake Sunday, accompanying deputy fish and game commissioner Fairfield, who went up on business. At the lake they met other parties on pleasure bent; in all fourteen from different points in the county. They constituted the advanced guard of pleasure seekers and tourists. There was an abundance of fish, and after the long winter of fast, they would bite as fast as the lines were dropped in. Every angler caught the limit of fifty fish per day within a comparatively short time. Seven hundred were hauled out as the day's catch. The road to the lake is rough in places. In some shady spots it was necessary to shovel snow from the roadway to get through.

MINING NOTES.

Kennedy Extension.—It will be noticed that articles of incorporation of this company were filed last week. The mining claim to be operated is the Muldoon property, between the old toll house and the Argonaut mill. A shaft was sunk for several hundred feet some fifteen years ago. Parties from Berkeley have an option on the mine, and have been doing development work on a small scale for some weeks.

Keystone.—The California Consolidated mines has purchased the Keystone at Amador City. But so doing this incorporation had added in the estimation of experts, the best property included in its string of claims. The Keystone is comparatively shallow mine. Its lowest level has not reached anyway near one half the depth attained in the Kennedy, or even in the Argonaut. The possibilities of wealth below [the worked out levels are beyond vast indeed. It is also rumored that the same company is looking after other promising properties near Amador City.

The Keystone passed into the hands of its new owners last Wednesday. It is the generally expressed hope that the new management will proceed to open it up in a systematic and business like manner.

South Eureka.—From indications it would appear that after the long years of assessments extending from 1891 to the present time the stockholders may eventually be greeted with dividends. The history of this property illustrates the ups and downs of mining on the mother lode. It serves to show that the gold is in the ground almost at any point along the mineralized belt. This property has levied between 50 and 60 assessments since its organization. Most of the original stockholders became faint hearted, and dropped out. Some held on year after year, only to grow weary a few months back at the apparently endless chain of sacrificing heavily by so doing. Latterly, however, according to reliable reports, a fine ore body has been struck at the 2700 level, which promises to place the property on a good paying basis. The ledge is large, and of high grade character for the mother lode region. The stock has jumped from 5 cents per share just before the strike to 65 cents offered now, with few sellers at that.

At the South Eureka they are putting up an electric hoist to take the place of steam heretofore in use. This will be the second hoist of the kind in Amador county. At the Bunker Hill electricity has been the power harnessed for hoisting for several years, and it works to a charm. They are building the foundation for the 200-horse power motor to be installed, which is already in the ground. The mill of the Central Eureka as its own 20 stamps, is kept running in South Eureka ore. The mine gives employment to over 100 men.

Zeila.—The 40 stamp mill is running already to its utmost capacity. Five stamps are kept going on ore from the ledge opened up in the Fleming ground. A large ore body was discovered here, the prospecting of which has been in progress for several months. It is a low grade proposition. So far, little if any pay rock has been encountered in this ground, notwithstanding all reports to the contrary.

THE CALHOUN MISTRIAL.

The trial of Patrick Calhoun for alleged bribery in connection with the trolley franchise granted by the boodling board of supervisors of San Francisco to the United Railroads, resulted in a disagreement of the jury. Ten of the jurors were for acquittal and two for conviction. On the first ballot they stood 8 to 4 in favor of acquittal; two of the minority were quickly won over. The jury had been out only twenty four hours—a remarkably short time for such a protracted trial—when they were finally discharged, on motion of assistant district attorney Heney. Notwithstanding the assertions of the pair of hold-outs, it is more than probable they would have come over to the majority in the course of another twenty-four hours lock-up. The case is one of the most prolonged and costly criminal trials in the history of the United States. It lasted five months, three of which were consumed in selecting a jury. For more than two years the indictment—and sixteen similar ones all growing out of the same transaction—had been hanging over the president of the United Railroads, notwithstanding that he had been from the outset clamorous for a speedy trial.

In face of the statement of the prosecution to the contrary, it is very improbable that the case will be tried again. With an army of sleuths, confessed boodlers and men willing to serve both sides at the same time, and a system of espionage that has never been paralleled in the criminal annals of the state, the prosecution heavily handicapped itself in public estimation, and as the outcome shows in the minds of the jurors. Fair-minded men do not take kindly to methods that assume that every man is a rogue and needs watching. This one trial has cost San Francisco over fifty thousand dollars. How much more has been contributed by the Spreckels-Phelan crowd in the misnamed cause of civic righteousness, will probably never be known. It looked more like a revengeful attempt to break up the United Railroads in the interest of would-be competitors than an effort to purify the city government of San Francisco.

Notwithstanding all the hullabaloo raised by the Spreckels-Heney conglomeration about civic virtue and the regeneration of San Francisco, we believe the standing of the jury very fairly represents the condition of public opinion on the Calhoun case. That is to say, not more than one in six of the population believe that Calhoun is guilty of any crime, or would vote him guilty under the miserably patched up evidence produced at the trial. San Francisco, one would think, would be heartily sick of the whole wretched business. There is little doubt that money, and a large sum, from the United Railroads went to Abe Ruef; that Ruef used it for an unlawful purpose; but that does not necessarily imply that Calhoun or any official of the company, was criminally involved in the transaction. And yet Calhoun—than whom no man has done as much to resurrect the city from its desolation by earthquake and fire—is made the butt of the whole graft prosecutions. It is little else than the outcome of a feud—a war declared by Spreckels and others against the United Railroads for mercenary and personal ends.

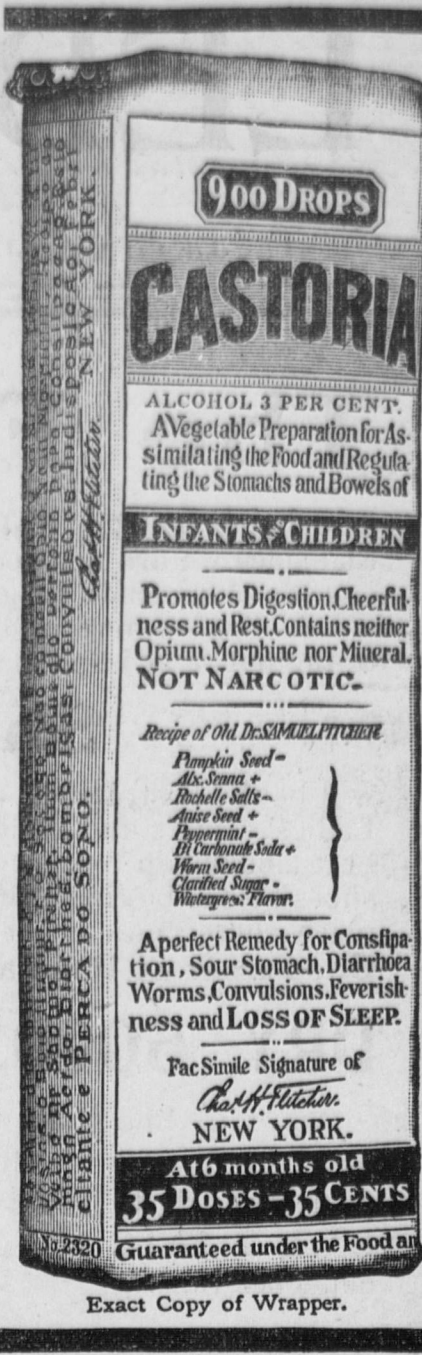

TARIFF TINKERING.

We are willing to admit that the leading idea in the demand of the republican platform concerning revision of the tariff, was a revision downward. At the same time, it was understood that the republican principle for protection of home industries and American labor was to be adequately maintained. The claim had gone forth, that the high tariff on some articles had fostered monopoly, crushed out competition, and enabled the home manufacturers to secure unreasonably heavy profits. In some cases it was claimed American made goods were sold in foreign countries at a much lower price than the same goods could be bought for in the United States. This anomaly might not be absolute proof of outrageously high tariff, but it strongly pointed that way. There may be instances where it is sound business policy to send surplus goods abroad and sell them at an actual loss, rather than disturb the home market by overloading. But while isolated cases of this kind might be passed by as undeserving of serious attention, the American consumer does not take kindly to being called upon as a general thing to pay more for American made goods than a foreign consumer. It is unnatural, and out of joint with the ordinary laws of business. These inconsistencies, and the creation of colossal fortunes in an incredibly short time, caused the agitation for revision to become popular. Of course, while the tariff was under discussion, some discrepancies on the other side—namely, where the tariff was too low to afford adequate protection—might also be rectified. But the moving spirit was for lower duties, and there is no doubt when the work is complete that this idea will be fully vindicated in the revised tariff.

PERILS OF EXPLORERS.

A Tragio Journey Across a Desert of Central Asia.

One of the most trying of the central Asian adventures of Sven Hedin, the Swedish explorer, was this: In February, 1895, Sven Hedin started eastward, exploring the country between the Kashgar and Yarkand rivers, proceeding in April to cross the Takla Makan desert, between the Yarkand and Khotan rivers. Never before had any known traveler attempted to exploit a course amid the eternal sea of shifting sand hills from river to river. The tale of that little, travel worn, bedraggled group, far beyond the last watering place, enveloped in dust, stumbling along through the dreary but agitated desert sea by crooks and roundabout ways, with desolation spread around and every trace of life departed, was a weird and pathetic one. "Not even a fly was to be heard in the air, not even a yellow leaf broke the monotony."

And ever at their head was the sturdy figure of the Swedish explorer, compass in hand, still enthusiastic, guiding them as best he could through the death shrouded wilderness. At length the camels had to eat their straw saddles, and the last of the bread was gone. Horrors followed. As men and camels dropped out of the line they were immediately enveloped in the whirling sand shroud and never seen again.

The end came on May 5, when Sven Hedin, crawling on all fours, dragged himself across the dry bed of the Khotan river. "All of a sudden a duck flew into the air and water splashed," he wrote. Two of his followers were all that survived, and it is doubtful whether even those two would have lived to tell the tale had not Sven Hedin carried back water for them in his boots.

MARKED THEIR TRAIL.

Two Brave Women Who Outwitted a Band of Indians.

One summer afternoon in 1776 Jemima Boone and two sisters named Callaway while boating on the Kentucky allowed their canoe to drift close to the opposite bank. Here, behind a bush, five Shawnee warriors were in hiding, and although the spot was not more than a quarter of a mile from Boonesborough, one of the Shawnees struck boldly out into the water, seized the canoe and dragged it to shore with its screaming occupants.

Once in the power of the Indians, however, these youthful daughters of the wilderness betrayed a wonderful self possession and resourcefulness. They knew enough of Indian customs to realize that if their strength failed them and they should prove unequal to the long march to the Shawnee towns on the Ohio they would be slaughtered mercilessly. So they stifled sobs and calmly accompanied their captors without protest or struggle. At every opportunity, though, they secretly tore little pieces from their clothing and attached them to bushes on the trail. Nothing more was needed to inform Boone and his fellow settlers, who had quickly started in pursuit, that they were on the right track, and on the second day of the captivity they caught up with the Indians. A volley laid two Shawnees low, the rest fled, and by the close of another day the girls were safe in the arms of their thankful mothers.—H. Addington Bruce in Smith's Magazine.

Stories of W. S. Gilbert.

When Sir Henry Irving and Edwin Booth were acting together in London at doubled prices, the story goes that Mr. Herman Vezin, meeting W. S. Gilbert in the street, asked him whether he had been to this quite exceptional show. "No," said Mr. Gilbert; "I have sometimes paid half a guinea to see one bad actor, but I will not pay a guinea to see two."

Mr. Beerbohm Tree was playing the part of Falstaff at the London Haymarket, and the indispensable stuffing made him perspire profusely. Mr. Gilbert, who was in the theater, went behind the scenes to see the actor, who may well have been expected to be congratulated on the excellence of his impersonation.

"How well your skin acts!" said Mr. Gilbert.—London Graphic.

Peter the Great as a Drinker.

There is preserved in the Bodleian library, Oxford, an innkeeper's bill for breakfast eaten in England by Peter the Great of Russia. The czar and his twenty companions managed to dispose of half a sheep, a quarter of lamb, ten pullets, twelve chickens, three quarts of brandy, six quarts of mulled wine, seven dozen of eggs, with salad in proportion. Peter was always a hard drinker. He would drink a pint of brandy and a bottle of sherry for his morning drink; after dinner he managed eight bottles of sack, "and so to the playhouse." But his favorite drink was hot pepper and brandy.

He Had the Bill.

Tom (in restaurant)—Excuse me, old man, but would you mind paying my check? I haven't anything but a forty dollar bill. Jack—A forty dollar bill! Why, I never heard of a bill of that denomination. Tom—Here it is—a bill from my tailor!—Chicago News.

To Fresh Eyes.

Willie, accompanied by his father, was visiting a circus and menagerie. "Oh, papa," the boy exclaimed as they passed before an elephant, "look at the big cow with her horns in her mouth eating hay with her tail."—Christian Register.

There is nothing so utterly hollow as a kind word that should have been spoken yesterday.—Evangel.

Amador County

Descriptive Article

Amador county comprises an area of 548 square miles. It lies on the western slope of Sierra Nevada mountains, and embraces within its territory all the diversity of valley, foothill, and high mountainous lands.

Climate.—The climate of the populous portions of the county is as genial and healthful as can be found anywhere in California. As climate is one of the most valuable assets of this favored state in attracting population, Amador stands second to no county in this regard. It should, and no doubt will in time, when its climatic advantages are more thoroughly understood and appreciated, become a health resort not only for those in less favored states, but for the residents of other parts of California. The temperature alone the central portion rarely falls below 30 degrees above zero in winter, and as rarely rises to 100 degrees in the summer. Snow seldom falls in the settled districts, and never remains on the ground for more than a few hours. Of course, in the high mountain regions of eastern Amador the snowfall is very heavy—which is characteristic of the entire Sierra Nevada range. The summer season is always accompanied with cool nights; permitting of sound, refreshing slumber. Fogs are rare, cyclones are unknown, thunderstorms are infrequent.

Gold Mining.—The county, although rich in other sources of wealth, comparatively untouched, is noted principally for her quartz mines. The deepest gold mines in America are located here. The Kennedy mine is now taking gold in liberal quantities from quartz extracted from a depth of over 3000 feet below the surface, with every indication that the pay-ore extends to a much greater depth. Since the discovery of gold, the county has contributed fully $100,000,000 to the world's supply of the precious metal. The mines are still yielding at the rate of about two million dollars annually. Nearly all of this wealth is produced by eight or ten mines operating on what is called the "mother lode," stretching clear across the county in a north-easterly direction a distance of twenty miles. The mines aggregate between 400 and 500 stamps, and furnish employment for over 1000 miners. This industry is still in its infancy. The unexplored territory, even along the main gold belt, is far in excess of the ground that has actually been worked or prospected. The county offers today one of the most inviting fields to be found anywhere in the world for the investment of capital in the fascinating business of gold mining, not alone along the mother lode, but also in the almost untouched mineralized country of the east belt, some ten or twelve miles from the main lode.

Besides gold, we have copper, deposits of pottery, coal, marble, slate, limestone, granite, and soapstone or talc—all undeveloped.

Agricultural Capabilities.—The agricultural possibilities equal, if not excel, the mineral riches. The valley lands will produce anything that can be grown in the most favored sections. In the foothill lands all kinds of deciduous fruits thrive; also all kinds of vegetable are raised where irrigation is practicable along the numerous water courses. Further up in the mountains, at an altitude of 2000 to 2500 feet, the soil is admirably adapted for apples and potatoes. A ready market for many times the quantity now raised of these commodities can be found in the various mining towns.

Grape culture and winemaking are becoming important industries, both the grapes and wine commanding a better price than the product of the lowland.

Land is cheap compared with other California lands. Improved farms may be secured for one-fourth the price current in some places. Unimproved lands can be had from $5 to $10 per acre. It does not require a fortune to buy a small ranch. There is room for a large addition to our agricultural population. Vast tracts now devoted to cattle ranges might be made the homes of hundreds of prosperous farmers.

Amador has a population of less than 12000. Three fourths of this is concentrated in a strip of three miles above and below the mineral belt.

Jackson, the county seat, has about 2500 inhabitants, and is an incorporated city of the sixth class. Other towns are Sutter Creek, Amador City, Drytown, Plymouth, Volcano, Pine Grove and Oleta. Ione City is the metropolis of the valley section, a thriving town of 1000 inhabitants.

The community is law abiding. Educational facilities are excellent. A schoolhouse is within easy reach of nearly every family. There is one high school, located at Ione.

The assessment roll for 1907 is $5,800,793, and the tax rate for both state and county purposes $2 on the $100.

The Southern Pacific has a branch railroad running to Ione. From this point the Ione and Eastern railroad extends 14 miles further to the mining section.

The various religious denominations and fraternal organizations are well represented.

The power plant of the Standard Electric Co.—one of the largest in the world—is located four miles from Jackson.

GLOBE SIGHTS

Whatever else you do with a worry, don't pass it on.

There is nothing quite so tiresome as the overworked martyr.

When married people "get along," it isn't always love; it is often sense.

Be patient, neighbors. After they are married, the spooning will all be over.

The trusts do not cause you so much trouble as your own extravagance.

Your mail is bad enough at best, but during dull times it becomes particularly disgusting.

If clad in skirts, they should be called "limbs;" if worn in pants, the proper term is "legs."

The pecking women do at the depot, which they call kissing, is about the funniest thing in the world.

Improving on nature may be difficult, but a frost that is harder on flies, and easier on peaches, would do it.

The owl may not be as wise as he looks, but he is wise enough not to try to work both the night and day shifts.

What has become of the old fashioned woman who gathered rose leaves to spread in her chests of linen?

If a woman refuses to play on the piano, it is because she wasn't coaxed enough, not because she thinks she can't play.

The Coolidge Enterprise says: "The new preacher has arrived. Now if the women do not spoil him, he may be very useful."

You know how hard it is for a woman to admit her age; well she would rather confess to every year of it than admit that she is ever jealous.

Every woman believes that if she should die right after her husband has scolded her, the coroner would find her heart covered with black and blue spots.

This may be a just world, but we claim too much attention is showered on the girl graduate, and too little on the woman who has to cook in hot weather.

The larger a city, the smaller the biscuits. In the country, biscuits are frequently met that are as big as feather beds, but in a large city they are too small to chew, and are swallowed like pills.

Probably the proudest moment of a girl's life is when she is out of town visiting for a few days, and her "steady" comes to see her. To have a steady follow a girl all the way from home, is true joy.

It is said that no man can tell a fib, and keep his big toe still. If the women will induce their husbands to take off their shoes before they begin to question them, they can catch them in a falsehood every time.

A Coolidge woman is finding Jordan a hard road to travel. She is not only entertaining the preacher who preaches there, but the preacher who used to preach there, and the preacher who hopes to preach there.

The consolation in losing a vermiform appendix is that a man can go through life, after the operation, and no one can tell, by his appearance, that he is something short. But when it comes to losing hair, it is different.

When a woman sits down in the audience and hears her daughter read her commencement essay, she marvels at the self-control shown by the spins around her, who are plainly restraining themselves from gnashing their teeth in envy.

In time, a man will learn to eat less, but a drunkard never becomes so old that he learns that whisky isn't good for him. It is not unusual to see a man with one foot in the grave, on a big drunk. What enjoyment can a very old man find in a jag?

When a woman gets a good cook, and the cook discovers that she is held in esteem, she proceeds to get out a club to hold over the woman who employs her. Sometimes this club is a sick mother; "I may have to quit you at any time to go home and nurse my mother," the cook cheerfully declares every day. In other instances it is a brother who lives in Oklahoma or Montana, who wants her to come out there. "I can get twice as much in that country," the cook will say on getting her wages, "and may go next week." We don't know what the sword of Damocles looked like, but of one thing we are sure: It was not as terrifying as the club every cook holds over the woman employing her.

It is discouraging to think how many hundreds of years busy people have been pestered by idlers. The following sentence will be found framed in a good many business offices: "Whoever you are I earnestly entreat you to dispatch your business as soon as possible, and then depart, unless you come hither, like another Hercules, to lend some friendly assistance; for here will be work to employ you and as many as enter this place." It was written 400 years ago by Aldus Plus Manutius, an Italian printer, and was hung up in his printing office in Venice to keep the idle men from bothering him.

PAPER FOR MONEY.

Extreme Care and Secrecy Used in Its Manufacture.

The various great nations devote much study to the improvement of their secret processes of manufacturing paper for money and banknotes, the principal object being, of course, to render counterfeiting more and more difficult.

Our own government guards with extreme care every detail of the manufacture of this paper, laying special importance upon its secret of getting silk thread into the composition of the paper itself.

The efforts of this government, however, are not nearly so painstaking as those put forth in making the flimsy paper used for Bank of England notes, which are probably the finest paper money in the world. These notes are manufactured from fine Irish linen, and the peculiar properties of the Test water (so called from the river of that name) produce paper of a purity and texture unsurpassed. The secret of the security of the Bank of England note against forgery and counterfeiting is said to be entirely in the paper itself and not in the printing.

In addition, the notes show a watermark so cleverly devised that an expert from the mill can tell by a glance at the date of manufacture the very name of the employee who made it. The watermark is produced by a design countersunk in the woven wire bottoms of the trays in which the hot paper pulp is poured and dried. It has never been successfully imitated.

Extraordinary precautions are taken for the security of the mill where these notes are made, as well as of everything in the mill. There is, of course, a staff of police constantly in attendance and a private wire to police headquarters, nine miles away.

The watchmen who patrol the mill corridors every night must pass at each quarter of an hour clocks of wonderfully ingenious construction, the revolving dials of which are pierced with holes, which at the precise moment the watchman is due before them pass over a slot. The watchman pushes through a peg he carries, and the clock ticks on. Should he not present himself at the moment scheduled for him to appear, however, the timepiece immediately sounds an alarm.—New York Tribune.

BIBLE STUDY CONTEST.

Suggestive Questions on the Sunday School

Lesson by Rev. Dr. Linscott for the International Newspaper Bible Study Club.

(Copyright, 1909, by Rev. T. S. Linscott, D. D.)

June 27th, 1909.

Temperance Lesson. Rom. xiii: 8-14.

Golden Text.—Put ye on the Lord Jesus Christ.—Rom. xiii:14.

Verses 8.—Is it always sinful to go into debt, when you have no visible means of paying it.

Is it right or wrong, to go into debt when you have nothing to pay with, if your creditor knows your circumstances.

Is a business man who has honestly failed in business and given up all he has to his creditors, under moral obligation to pay the balance of the debt, if he makes enough money to do so out of future business.

Under modern business conditions, and the laws of love and righteousness, when wholesalers sell on time, or give an adequate discount for cash to retailers, why are not the debts of an honest bankrupt retailer, the legitimate loss of his creditors in common with himself.

Wherein consists the folly and sin of a wage-earner in constant work, getting into debt.

Is it the duty of everybody to love everybody, the bad and the good, enemies and friends.

What is the advantage of loving everybody, to ourselves, and to those whom we love.

Verses 9-10.—GIVE reasons, outside of the Bible, that will cover all circumstances, why it is always wrong to disobey these five moral prohibitions. (This question must be answered in writing by members of the club.)

Must all such acts, as are here forbidden, contravene the law of love to make them sinful; for example, if you had to kill a man who was about to kill one of your loved ones, would that be sinful.

Can an act be wrong that works out for the good of all parties.

Verses 11-12.—If you knew you had to die inside of a month, what effect would that have upon your intentions and actions, so far as God is concerned; and if it would change these in the least, does that not prove that you are now living wrong and are in danger.

Most people are morally and spiritually asleep, and many are far into the night; what are the conditions which should suddenly startle such into full consciousness, as to their danger, and their duty.

Verses 13.—How is it that the night is the time selected for so many bad deeds.

Should a man ever do a thing which he is ashamed for his best friends and neighbors to know.

Does the popular conscience generally, or always represent God's attitude to a thing; or are there some things God may be pleased with which the community would condemn as wrong, or vice versa.

How is it that bar rooms are generally screened off from the public gaze.

Why is it a crime for a man to get drunk.

Why do most drunkards get drunk in the night, or away from public gaze.

Does the drink habit generally lead to the other four grave evils mentioned in verse thirteen.

Verses 14.—What is the sure remedy for the drink habit, and all kindred evils of the flesh. Does putting on Jesus, always mean putting on strength so we can control all the passions of the body, and the ambitions of the soul.

ICEBERGS.

How Those Found in the North Atlantic Are Formed.

The distance covered by an iceberg of the north Atlantic from the time it is formed until it reaches the banks is fully 2,500 miles. It may have been afloat for a year, exposed to wide changes of temperature, battered by ice floes, possibly other bergs and ceaselessly washed by the waves. Yet some of those seen 2,000 miles south of their starting point are nearly 300 feet in height and truly of majestic proportions, often 1,000 or more feet in length, while it is an established scientific fact that so much more of the bulk is under water than is visible that the largest bergs may extend into the ocean to a depth of over half a mile.

Their enormous size when they become detached from the glaciers is proved by the observations of explorers along the Greenland coast. A few years ago a berg was measured as nearly as possible around the edges. This distance was about five miles. It had several peaks estimated to range from 300 to 500 feet high. Judging from its appearance, it was a solid mass that had separated in its entirety from the glacial edge of Greenland.

As arctic navigators who venture far north often see a score or more of great bergs in a day, the tremendous glacial activity in this region can be appreciated. The majority of these that drift to the Grand Banks come from Melville bay. Some of the distinct glaciers that terminate the Greenland ice cap on this coast extend along it a distance of fully twenty-five miles. Their thickness or height can only be estimated, but in places near the open sea it is believed to be several hundred feet.

Recent examinations of this coast show that during the short summer the formation of bergs in the bay is almost continuous. The glacial movement keeps pressing the ice forward until a thick stratum often projects many feet beyond that beneath. After a time the great weight overcomes the tensile strength of the mass and it falls into the sea, and a berg is created.—Day Allen Willey in Scientific American.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENTS

MARIELL.

June 20.—Things must be getting lively around here, when four automobiles are to be seen all at one time.

Mr Engstrom has rigged up an auto car, and many jolly excursions are made in it up and down the railroad track.

Mrs Ellis came up from Vallejo Friday, to be at the bed side of her son Will, who is very ill.

Mrs Ray Fuller of Angels, returned home Saturday, after a pleasant week spent here.

Mrs Dick Caminetti entertained at dinner last Friday, the guest of honor being Mrs Ray Fuller.

Grandma Caminetti and the three little Hintman girls came up from below last week, to spend their vacation with Mr Hintman at Kennedy Flat.

Thomas Ryan, our county recorder, will move his family into a cottage on Water street, Jackson, next week. We are all sorry to lose them from our little neighborhood.

Our Mary Jane isn't like the Mary Jane mentioned in the Dispatch, who was crying because she had no fellow to take her to the big doin's in Love's hall. On the contrary our Mary Jane's very best fellow took her to the doin's, and both are wearing a pleasant smile.

Bruce Solari spent Saturday and Sunday with his parents at the mill. He has bought himself a fine horse and riding equipments.

Mr and Mrs C. E. Froelich and sons, leave Saturday for Leak Springs, El Dorado county to spend the summer.

The little school at Kennedy Flat closed a week ago Friday, after a very successful term with Miss Amy Clark as teacher. All the parents of the pupils are well pleased with the results of the term. A pleasing little program was rendered, and considering that the oldest pupil in school is only ten years of age, it was amazing how well they carried their songs without help, and spoke their pieces as follows:

Song by school, "America"; recitation, Marie Ryan; dialogue, Ruth Kevers, Coral Tyack, Vernice Tyack, Carl Kremmel and Clarence Froelich; song by school; recitations, Clarence Froelich, Dorothy Swift, Vernice Tyack; song by school; recitations by Annie Capucella, Amelia Passera, Mervin Kevers; recitation by request, Miss Dorothy Kremmel; remarks by Mr Swift.

DEFENDER.

June 20.—Rain came at last, but entirely too late to benefit the crops. Nearly all the grain was out. The rain did not damage the hay any, simply causing delay in hauling into the barns.

Gardens were benefited some, and the dust is settled for awhile longer.

W. H. Nichols had the misfortune last Monday to cut off his fore finger, only a small portion of skin attaching the finger to the hand. The accident was caused by the teeth of the mowing machine slipping, when removing same to put in new sections. Dr. Smith replaced the finger, sewing it with numerous stitches. At last reports he was doing well.

Mrs Quesito of Lone, is visiting her sister, Mrs W. H. Nichols of Hit or Miss station, and other relatives. She expects to stay several weeks.

Pioneer school closed Friday. Mrs Joyce, the teacher, treated the scholars to ice cream.

Report says the Horn mine near Defender will be worked in the near future. Parties from the city are interested in the property.

J. Dufrene passed here on his way to the mountains with his cattle.

Oscar Norris, wife and family, came up from Lone, to visit her father, A. W. Kimball, also several brothers. They expect to stay for some time as Mr Norris came for his health, which has been feeble for some time.

Mrs Jewel has been on the sick list. At last reports she was not any better.

Mr and Mrs N. C. Williams visited the latter's mother, Mrs Strnman, Sunday. They found the old lady much improved in health.

Cherries are getting ripe and the trees are heavily loaded with fruit. Busy Bee.

The Fairplay baseball team played Omo Sunday. Score 6 to 10 in favor of Fairplay.

Juvenile Court.

Early this week the pranks of little Katie Dalponta in stealing a $20 piece as stated in another column, led to the initial steps being taken to organize or appoint a juvenile court, in accordance with a law passed by the last legislature. This institution was intended to meet the requirements of the large cities. In small counties like Amador there is not much need of them. But it is made mandatory to have one, and the appointment of the members constituting the court rests entirely with the judge of the superior court. On Monday Judge Wood appointed the following as the members of the juvenile court of this county: A. Ginoecchio, Mrs Margaret Gregory, Mrs Mary Meehan of Jackson; Mrs Johanna A. Nixon of Sutter Creek; Allen McWayne of Drytown; Eric Schmidt of Lone, and Henry Myers of Plymouth.

What this court is required to do, or the scope of its work is not easy to understand. It seems to have no independent jurisdiction, and very little power. The superior court is now, as it was before the new law was framed, the whole thing in the commitment of juvenile offenders. The members serve without compensation. It is more of a formal proceeding than anything else. Under the law a probation officer can also be appointed by the superior judge of each county. He is paid a salary, not less than $10 per month. Nothing has been done in Amador in this direction.

On Wednesday Katie Dalponta entered the McGary residence on Broadway, and was in the act of taking away some articles therefrom, when discovered whereupon she beat a hasty retreat, leaving the spoils behind. Other places were visited the same day in a like pilfering spirit.

Thursday morning four members of the newly appointed juvenile court gathered at the court house on the case of this wayward child. The members present were A. L. McWayne, H. Myers, Mrs Meehan and Mrs Gregory. The child was in court at eleven o'clock, accompanied by her father, A. Dalponta. Several witnesses were examined. The girl was adjudged a delinquent. The question to what institution she should be committed was the troublesome one. The father said he was not in position to pay for her maintenance. Finally it was decided to send her to the Catholic convent at Grass Valley—the parents belonging to that church.

The child started for her convent home at Grass Valley this morning, accompanied by Mrs Meehan. Katie appeared delighted to go; it had all the appearance of a holiday trip for her.

The members of the juvenile court drew lots Thursday as to the length of the respective terms, with the following result: H. Myers, 1 year; Mrs Meehan and Mrs Nixon, 2 years; A. Ginoecchio and Mrs Gregory 3 years; E. Schmidt and A. McWayne 4 years. During the examination of the father, A. Dalponta, he stated that he attributed the stealing propensity of Katie to the local moving picture show. The child would take anything to get there.

Better Not Get Dyspepsia

If you can help it. Kodol prevents Dyspepsia, by effectually helping Nature to Relieve Indigestion. But don't trifle with Indigestion.

A great many people who have trifled with indigestion, have been sorry for it—when nervous or chronic dyspepsia resulted, and they have not been able to cure it. Use Kodol and prevent having Dyspepsia.

Everyone is subject to indigestion. Stomach derangement follows stomach abuse, just as naturally and just as surely as a sound and healthy stomach results upon the taking of Kodol.

When you experience sourness of stomach, belching of gas and nauseating fluid, bloated sensation, gnawing pain in the pit of the stomach, heart burn (so-called), diarrhoea, headaches, dullness or chronic tired feeling—you need Kodol. And then the quicker you take Kodol—the better. Eat what you want, let Kodol digest it.

Women Who are Envied

Those attractive women who are lovely in face, form and temper are the envy of many, who might be like them. A weak, sickly woman will be nervous and irritable. Constipation or kidney poisons show in pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. For all such, Electric Bitters work wonders. They regulate stomach, liver and kidneys, purify the blood; give strong nerves, bright eyes, pure breath, smooth, velvety skin, lovely complexion. Many charming women owe their health and beauty to them. 50c at Spagnoli's Drug Store.

Kodol is a perfect digester. If you could see Kodol digesting every particle of food, of all kinds, in the glass test-tubes in our laboratories, you would know this just as well as we do.

Nature and Kodol will always cure a sick stomach—but in order to be cured, the stomach must rest. That is what Kodol does—rests the stomach, while the stomach gets well. Just as simple as A, B, C.

A young man named L. Severy, a graduate of the State University, has been assisting Jos. Phelps, assayer at the Argonaut, for the past two or three weeks.

Judge Fred Wood returned home Sunday evening, after finishing all the work on hand in Judge Waste's court in Alameda. Judge Waste has declared a vacation until August, and will go into the country to recuperate. He is improving right along, and by the close of vacation expects to be sufficiently restored to health to take care of the business of his court himself.

William Doyle, who was injured by the debris from a blast in the Doyle mine in Hunt's gulch several weeks ago when leaning over the shaft at the surface when the blast went off, was in to consult a physician Sunday. One of his eyes was severely peppered with particles of rock, and has been sore ever since. After examination, the doctor found that a film, akin to a cataract, has formed over the sight, and may have to be removed by an operation.

At the ball ground Sunday Frank Soracco, one of the umpires, was struck in the face by a stick or whip in the hands of one Davis, a visitor from Sutter Creek. Davis was accompanied by his wife, and some remark was made by Soracco which raised the ire of Davis to the striking point. The blow cut a gash in the cheek from which the blood spurted copiously. But nothing serious resulted.

Mrs. Dr. Gall returned Saturday evening from a visit of several weeks in San Francisco.

The auto is an everyday thing in Jackson nowadays. Last Sunday there were four on the street at one time. That is the biggest aggregation of these traveling machines that we have seen here. Two of them belonged to the Sacramento baseball players, and one of the others was the car of the Giannini party that collided with a pile of rock at Oneida last week, and was thereby temporarily disabled. It had been put in commission again at Garbarini's machine shop.

Henry Weil returned home Saturday evening after an absence of over a month with his family in San Francisco.

Superintendent Rainsford of the Argonaut mine, was able to be taken out for a drive for the first time since his sickness last Tuesday. His father is expected out from New York in a few days. He left there Wednesday, and should reach here about Sunday. From this time on it is believed his recovery to complete health will be rapid.

William Ellis, the adopted son of Robert Robinson, formerly superintendent of the Oneida mine, and wife, died at Martell's Tuesday last. The remains were forwarded Wednesday to San Francisco for interment. He was a victim of consumption, and had been sick for several months.

A Novel Wager.

Monday evening a man was noticed packing on his back a big hot water tank used in connection with hotel ranges. It weighed about 180 pounds, and was a load more for a mule than a man. The packer was Frank Dalponta of the California hotel, and he turned himself into a packing animal for the time being to pick up a $20 in short order. It seems that the tank was in front of the California hotel when Dr. Endicott happened to be passing. He remarked that he would give any man $20 who would pack the thing from the California hotel to the National hotel and back, a distance of over a thousand yards. Young Dalponta, a strong, muscular athlete, took up the challenge. He had everything to win and nothing to lose by the adventure except the expenditure of a little muscle. He fixed the cylinder—an awkward thing to carry anyway—on his back and started off taking the precaution to place one finger in the pipe hole to steady it and hold it in place. He succeeded in making the round trip and pocketed twenty dollars as his fee. He was about ready to drop, however, when he got through with his task. Thereafter the cook at the California hotel thought he could accomplish the same feat. He made a bet of $20 with Dr. Endicott to that effect. He started off spry enough, but soon wearied, and dropped his burden in front of the Enterprise stable, about one-third of the distance.

On Tuesday the betting fever was strong again. F. Ferry, the stage driver, made a bet of $50 with an Italian miner named Galli Ursi that he could not pack the tank the same distance—from California hotel to National and back. Ursi walked off with the load, and got back with it with apparent ease. He offered to bet any one that he would repeat the trick at once, but no one was willing to take him up.

Afterwards a bet was made with a Spanish miner, a stout, strong appearing man. He kept the load on his back until he reached the Last Chance saloon, within one hundred yards of the winning post. The sprinkling wagon had just come along and made the road a little slippery. His under-pinning became shaky at the critical moment, and he dropped his load and lost his money. Why not reserve all these sporting events until 4th of July. They would give a lift to the celebration.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Bank of Amador County.

A meeting of the directors of the Bank of Amador county was held June 20, in the bank building in Jackson. The reports showed a very prosperous condition of affairs. The amount on deposit is larger than at any previous time in its history. A dividend of $5 per share was declared payable on the first of July. This is at the rate of 7 per cent per annum. A considerable amount was also carried over to the surplus, and represents a portion of the net earnings of the past half year. It is the intention to improve the bank premises by building in the rear, and providing more room.

Entertainment for M. E. Church.

The entertainment for the M. E. church of Jackson given in Love's hall Saturday evening was a success in every way. It was mainly a repetition of the concert given in Sutter Creek by Mrs. McGee and others for the Methodist church of that town, and was kindly repeated here in further of the local church. The concert gave satisfaction in every respect. The after piece was a farce gotten up by local amateurs, and was well sustained. The receipts were sufficient to leave a handsome margin over all expenses for the benefit of the church.

Lost—Between Jackson and Sutter Creek last Saturday, an overcoat. Please return to Wm. J. McGee.

Robert E. Dowling, born in Mokelumne Hill in 1866, is the most probable candidate of Tammany for mayor of New York. He went to New York when 19 years of age and has become widely known and very prominent in political matters. His father was deputy clerk of this county and the county assessor while the county seat was at Mokelumne Hill. Many of the old-timers remember the father, who was familiarly known as Bob Dowling.—Angels Record.

Report has it that a government agent arrived in the county recently for the purpose of inspecting the site for the proposed Indian reservation to be situated in this county somewhere in the section east of Columbia and north of Middle Camp. The proposed boundaries are not definitely known. The government is looking for a location which will be used for an Indian reservation, and the members of the tribes in the different counties will be concentrated thereon. It is stated that a choice as to the site stands between Tuolumne and Fresno counties.—Independent.

W. B. Perry, the promoter and manager of the Sierra Times' "voting contest," was arrested Thursday on a complaint sworn to by W. H. Shaw, the liveryman, and brought back to Sonoma. He was apprehended at Chinese Camp by deputy constable Matt Marshall, who found his man engaged in endeavoring to make repairs on an automobile that had been damaged in an accident. It appears, according to the story of Mr Shaw, that a number of days ago Perry hired a rig from him to go to Jamestown. Instead he drove the outfit to Big Oak Flat and on the return trip removed the bridle from the horse to give it some barley, without first detaching the animal from the buggy. As a consequence of this negligence there was a runaway and the outfit was wrecked. Shaw, in the attempt to protect himself from loss, attached forty-odd dollars, the amount due the promoter from the Times, and then swore to the complaint charging his patron with a felony.—Union Democrat.

Word was received here last Saturday of the accidental shooting of Dan Riley of San Andreas, which occurred the night before near Placerville. Dan is in the employ of the American River Electric Company and as near as we can learn the particulars, was out with some of the boys on a coon hunt. The dogs treed some animal and Dan climbed the tree to investigate. Meanwhile another of the party attracted by the dogs and not being aware that any one else was about approached the tree and hearing, as he supposed some animal in the branches fired twice into the tree with a rifle. Both shots took effect on Riley, one in the knees and one in the side, and the report that came here first was to the effect that the wounds were fatal. Since then better news has come, and he appears to be getting along well with a prospect of recovery. Tom and Will Riley brothers of Dan, left here at once to be with the wounded boy.—Prospect.

The Lone Creamery Co. paid out for cream in the month of May over $5,000, all of which went into the hands of farmers in this vicinity. This is the largest monthly payment the creamery has ever made. There are no large dairies to supply the creamery, those having a large number of cows mostly making their own butter, so this amount has been distributed among those having but few cows, and the money has been, for the most part, put into immediate circulation among the merchants and business men of lone.—Echo.

The Echo has it from what it considers a reliable source, that the big Swift ranch, containing 2,700 acres, and the Crabtree ranch adjoining, of 1,700 acres, are to be subdivided by the present owners and colonized. This ought to be good news to the business men of lone, for nearly all the trade of that section is tributary to lone, and if this tract is divided into parcels and settled on the colonization plan it will be the means of bringing in at least 150 new families. These ranches comprise the very best part of Dry Creek valley, and the soil is adapted to the growth of almost anything that grows out of the ground. Aside from business point of view, there is the social as well. People who will settle in a colony of that kind, resolved to make a living off a few acres, are bound to be intelligent and, for the most part, good citizens, and that is of greater consideration than the mere financial.—Echo.

A Child Kleptomaniac.

Katie Dalponta, a child of 11 or 12 years, has been detected in stealing pranks again. She seems to have an ungovernable propensity to appropriate articles or money. Several times she has been in trouble on this score before. Her parents are unable to control her actions, and are willing that the authorities should send the girl to a reform school, which is deemed the best thing that could be done for the wayward child. Her latest prank is stealing a $20 gold piece from the residence of Emil Sabatini, who lives on the Webb-Mason tract. Sunday afternoon Katie appeared at the store of Mrs Cuneo, and wanted change for ten dollars, presenting at the same time the $20 gold piece. She believed it was worth ten dollars, and did not know to the contrary until informed by Mrs Cuneo. The latter, knowing the disposition of the girl, thought something was wrong and asked where she got the money. She replied that her sister gave it to her to change, that it had been received as wages for domestic services in a family. Finally city marshal Huberty was told of the matter, and in a short time found that the coin had been stolen from Sabatini's residence. It was placed in a top drawer of the bureau, and among a lot of ribbons. They had not missed it until told of Katie's escapade. It is the intention to have the child sent to the state reformatory, if possible.

Habeas Corpns Case.

Judge Wood heard the application of Joe Pires, an inmate of the Preston School, to be liberated on habeas corpus last Monday. The petition alleging that young Pires was unlawfully restrained of his liberty was sworn to by the boy's father. It seems that young Pires pleaded guilty to a charge of petty larceny before the justice of the peace of Santa Barbara. He was turned over to the superior court, with the recommendation by the lower court that he be sent to a reform school. On this sort of information and complaint, so it was alleged, the boy was committed. W. T. Randall, the superintendent of the Preston school, was in the court room with Pires during the hearing. The petitioner was represented by E. S. Bell, as attorney, a brother of Theodore Bell, the democratic candidate for governor at the last election. The case was continued until July 1st.

FOREST FIRES.

The attention of all persons who inhabit the forest or brush-covered areas of California is called to the following provisions of the State Forest Laws relating to forest fires: Under Statutes 1907, Chapter 536, it is a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not less than $25 nor more than $500, or imprisonment not less than fifteen days nor more than six months, or both, to commit any of the following acts:

1. To build a fire even on your own land without first securing a written permit from a duly appointed firewarden, except camp fires, which may be built on unenclosed lands if the owner has not forbidden their building in any way, and provided the builder of a camp fire totally extinguishes it before leaving. Fires may also be built without permit to facilitate redwood logging and back-fires may be set in a careful manner to stop the spread of a fire then actually burning.
2. To set fires on the lands of another excepting camp fires built under the conditions outlined above.
3. To allow a fire, unlawfully set, to escape from the control of the person having charge thereof, or to spread to the lands of another.
4. It is unlawful to use any engine or boiler, burning fuel other than oil, unless the engine or boiler is equipped with adequate devices to prevent the escape of fire from any part.
5. Also to refuse to obey the summons of any state firewarden to fight fire.

The heavy rainfall of last winter stimulated a strong growth of grass and other vegetation. This has now become dry and highly inflammable. If a fire is started it will be almost impossible to check it owing to the great amount of fuel. For this reason it is doubly necessary to pay strict attention to the forest laws during this summer. The annual loss to the state from forest fires amounts into the hundreds of thousands of dollars, yet most of the fires are started carelessly. Make it a point to obey the forest laws yourself and to support your firewarden, whose name will be found on the appended list. If you have evidence to show that the forest laws have been violated, place it in the hands of your district attorney or notify the state forester at Sacramento. All violators of the forest laws will be prosecuted vigorously.

G. B. LULL, State Forester.

The Big Head.

Is of two kinds—conceit and the big head that comes from a sick headache. Does your head ever feel like a gourd and your brain feel loose and so? You can cure it in no time by acting on your liver with Ballard's Herbina. Isn't it worth trying for the absolute and certain relief you'll get?

ARAB SCHOOLS.

Their Peculiar Methods in Teaching and Studying.

"An Arab school," said a traveler, "is one of the most interesting places in Cairo to visit. The children, with the schoolmaster, sit upon the floor or the ground in a semicircle, and each has a tablet of wood which is painted white and upon which the lessons are written. When the latter are learned they are washed out and replaced by other lessons.

"During study hours the Arab schools remind one of the Chinese, for the children all study aloud, and as they chant they rock back and forth like trees in a storm, and this movement is continued for an hour or more at a time. The schoolmaster rocks back and forth also, and altogether the school presents a most novel appearance as well as sound. Worshipers in the mosques always move about while reciting the Koran, as this movement is believed to assist the memory.

"The desks of the Arab schools are old contrivances of palm sticks, upon which is placed the Koran or one of the thirty sections of it. After learning the alphabet the boys take up the study of the Koran, memorizing entire chapters of it until the sacred book is entirely familiar.

"A peculiar method is followed in learning the Koran. The study begins with the opening chapter, and from this it skips to the last. The last but one is then learned, then the last but two, and so on in inverted order, ending finally with the second chapter.

"During the student's progress it is customary for the schoolmaster to send on the wooden tablet a lesson painted in black and red and green to the father, who returns it after inspection with a couple of plasters pasted upon it. The salaries of the schoolmasters are very meager indeed."—Washington Herald.

Honest Answer.

The stories told of Snetzler, a famous Swiss organ builder, prove that he was a man of rare and incorruptible honesty. At one time the parish officers of a country church applied to Snetzler to examine their organ and make improvements in it.

"Gentlemen," said Snetzler after a careful examination of the instrument in question, "your organ be wort £100 just now. Vell, I vill spend you £100 on it, and it shall den be wort £50!"—London Graphic.

Those Elaborate Defenses.

"Would you shoot a man who assailed your veracity?"

"No," answered the peaceful citizen. "I'd rather take a chance on his personal opinion than to go before a jury with a story that might convince the general public that he was right."—Washington Star.

A Frog's Nest.

In Brazil a species of tree frog constructs in the water a curious nest, or fortifications, to protect its eggs and young from the attacks of fish. Starting at the bottom of a pond, the mother frog erects a circular, tubelike wall of mud which at the top projects above the surface of the water. In the water thus inclosed the eggs are laid, and when they have hatched out the frog's young are secure from enemies until they are able to take care of themselves.

Puppies Both.

"I would give half my fortune to be in your little dog's place," said a "smart" young man in a railway carriage to a girl who had a toy terrier in her arms.

"And it would be the right place for you," she retorted, "for I am taking him to have his ears cropped!"—London Express.

A Natural Inference.

"Matrimony," said the lady who had just secured her third divorce, "is, after all, an uncharted sea."

"I take it, then," her friend replied, "that you have not engaged in your various ventures for charting purposes."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Manners form at last a rich varnish with which the routine of life is washed and its details adorned.—Emerson.

All Same World Over

A Kansas traveling man is quoted as saying: "When a Larned girl wants her fellow to go home, she takes down her hair. St. John girls take off their shoes. Rush Center girls say, 'Dearest, as you have cattle to fodder in the morning, you may unclasp me.' The Holsington girls only say, 'You may go when you are ready.' Elfinwood girls are more particular. They simply say, 'Sonny, time's up. Get!' Hutchinson girls say, 'Plug yourself or I'll send a c. o. d.' Great Bend girls say, 'Rully, I didn't know it was so late; you had better go.' And the Topeka girls say (and it must be a good system, for the man who is authority for the statement is married), 'You've missed the last car, anyway, so there's no use going now.' The Lyons girls say, 'bring your trunk, dearie, papa don't mind star boarders.' Wichita girls say, 'Stick around awhile, ma's kinda deaf.'"

Accidentally Hardened Copper.—A Great Mud Flow.—Certainty of Anti Typhoid.—Electrolytic Iron.—Bottled Acetylene.—A Hot-Box Signal.—An Improved Fixer of Nitrogen.—A Meteor's Burning.—A Novel Primary Battery.

The hardening and strengthening influence of a minute proportion of some element in an alloy, which is a marvel and mystery of metallurgy, is not confined to the various steels. Arsenic is a hardly appreciable impurity of furnace copper, but it now appears that the electrolytic copper coming so generally into use is too pure for certain purposes. On the Prussian railways it has been noticed in recent years that the number of fractured locomotive staybolts was strangely increasing. Investigation shows that this has followed the increasing use of electrolytic copper, and that of 23 broken staybolts collected, 21 were of this metal, and only 2 of furnace copper. Of the electrolytic samples, only one contained arsenic, which was present in all furnace copper bolts tested. The high quality of copper containing traces of arsenic had been already recognized, and railways in Italy and the British colonies specify 0.15 to 0.55 per cent of arsenic as necessary in all copper bought.

The outburst of mud of Jan. 17th from near Mount Banajao, in the Philippine province of Tayabas, is reported by C. G. Wrentham of Manila to have flowed ten miles to the sea, spreading 9,000,000 tons of material in a layer a foot deep over an average width of half a mile. Great numbers of rocks three to four feet in diameter were deposited, with some much larger. A landslide had choked up a gorge on the slope of the mountain, and heavy rains had gradually formed a pond behind the dam of rocks and loose earth, until finally the obstruction gave way.

Of 5,473 British soldiers inoculated with anti-typhoid vaccine, Col. W. B. Leishman reports that only 21 afterward had the disease, with 2 deaths, while of 6,610 non-inoculated in the same regiment, 17 had typhoid and 26 died. Of the 21 inoculated cases, 13, including the 2 deaths, received old vaccine, much inferior to the improved now used.

New possibilities in metallurgy seem to be opened up by the Cowper-Coles process of making iron plates and tubes direct from the ore by electrolysis. Ordinary cast iron or iron ore, or material unfitted by certain ingredients for ordinary making of high-grade iron or steel, is put into an acid bath, and connected to the positive pole of a dynamo. For tubes the negative electrode is a wooden core covered with a sheet of lead, a similar flat surface being provided for plates. When the tube deposited by electrolysis has reached the desired thickness, it is taken from the bath, and is then heated to melt the lead and remove the core. The tubes and plates cost much less than those obtained by melting and rolling. The iron produced is superior in quality, and it is believed to be possible not only to utilize iron waste and inferior ore but to apply the process direct to ore in its bed, thus making unnecessary the mining and cleaning of ore.

It was discovered some time ago that the great danger of the explosion of compressed acetylene could be avoided by dissolving the acetylene in acetone. Compressed acetylene is now prepared by Claude and Hess by using steel cylinders filled with a porous mixture of infusorial earth, special wood charcoal, and a suitable binder, and forcing into these cylinders, the acetone and then the acetylene. At ordinary temperature and pressure, the acetone dissolves 21 volumes of acetylene, which is increased about 12 times at 12 atmospheres. The cylinders have capacities of about one-eighth, one-half and one cubic foot, and contain respectively 12, 50 and 100 cubic feet of acetylene, which is stored in convenient form for lighting cars, buoys, etc., and for welding metals.

A novel alarm for hot bearings consists of a small tube and bulb containing mercury, so arranged that rise of the mercury with temperature closes an electric bell circuit and attracts the attention of the attendant. The apparatus is attached to the bearing in a box two inches square. When many bearings are being watched, an ordinary electric bell indicator can be used to show which is becoming hot, and thus much trouble may be avoided. The device is recommended for steamships and all works having valuable machinery.

For obtaining nitrogen compounds from the air, the new process of Dr. Schonherr is claimed to be an important advance over that now used—the Birkeland and Eyde,—which yields binoxide of nitrogen from air passed over an alternating current arc having its surface increased by deflecting by an electromagnet. The new method employs an electric arc generated within an iron tube. An insulated mass of iron in the tube at one end serves as one electrode, and the tube itself forms the other, the passage of the current between giving the arc. As air is blown in, the arc is pushed along the tube, stretching out to great lengths. By his simple method,—requiring neither moving parts nor electromagnet—the air is transformed into binoxide of nitrogen, which is cooled too rapidly to decompose. With 1000 horse-power, the arc extends several yards along the tube, and 30,000 cubic feet of air per hour can be blown through, yielding 50 per cent more of nitrous product than before. It is expected that 140,000 horse-power from a new turbine plant in Norway will be consumed in working this process.

One of the most remarkable meteors ever recorded is being still given attention by W. F. Denning, the veteran British observer. It passed westward over the south of England on the evening of Feb. 22d, brighter than Venus, and various reports indicate that it had a visible flight of about 135 miles at 20 miles a second, with a descent from about 60 to 26 miles. Midway in the course an explosion seemed to occur. This left a short luminous streak, which gradually extended backward over the whole tract, becoming bent and distorted, and showing more than two hours. At the end of its path, the meteor turned sharply to the east with two violent explosions, following which the luminous trail lengthened 80 miles eastward in 15 minutes. The fireball is regarded as the greatest meteoric spectacle in a generation.

The unique new galvanic cell, generating an alternating current, has electrodes of thin sheets of iron, and for electrolyte uses equal volumes of two per cent sulphuric acid solution and a saturated bichromate of potash solution. The action continues for hours. The current moves a galvanometer needle back and forth in a period of 5 to 10 seconds, with indications ranging from plus 0.4 to minus 0.4 volt for the cell.

Stomach Troubles

Many remarkable cures of stomach troubles have been effected by Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. One man who had spent over two thousand dollars for medicine and treatment was cured by a few boxes of these tablets. Price, 25 cents. Samples free at Jackson drug store.

Nullifying the Game Laws.

The new game license law bids fair for nullification. Its provisions forbid all hunting, without license, save for "predatory birds and animals." And the astute game commission gives notice that even geese, squirrels and jack rabbits may not be pursued, hunted and killed by unlicensed hunters. In the great valleys of the state, where geese, jack rabbits and squirrels come under the head of "predatory," the game commission will have a "beautiful" time enforcing this mandate. Reasonable fish and game laws are very much to be desired, and every thoughtful citizen will lend aid toward enforcing them. But foul provisions such as we have indicated simply serve to weaken the entire game law fabric.

By the way, has the game commission yet filed that long overdue financial report? If not, why not? And if it has been filed, let it be published.—Modesto Herald.

The Badge of Honesty

Is on every wrapper of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery because a full list of the ingredients composing it is printed there in plain English. Forty years of experience has proven its superior worth as a blood purifier and invigorating tonic for the cure of stomach disorders and all liver ills. It builds up the run-down system as no other tonic can in which alcohol is used. The active medicinal principles of native roots such as Golden Seal and Queen's root, Stone and Mandrake root, Bloodroot and Black Cherry bark are extracted and preserved by the use of chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce at Buffalo, N. Y., for free booklet which quotes extracts from well-recognized medical authorities such as Drs. Bartholow, King, Scudder, Coe, Ellingwood and a host of others, showing that these roots can be depended upon for their curative action in all weak states of the stomach, accompanied by indigestion or dyspepsia as well as in all bilious or liver complaints and in "wasting diseases" where there is loss of flesh and gradual running down of the strength and system.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" makes rich pure blood and so invigorates and regulates the stomach, liver and bowels, and through them, the whole system. Thus all skin affections, blotches, pimples and eruptions as well as scrofulous swellings and old open running sores or ulcers are cured and healed. In treating old running sores, or ulcers, it is well to insure their healing by applying to them Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve. If your druggist don't happen to have this Salve in stock, send fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and a large box of the "All-Healing Salve" will reach you by return post.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic, medicine or known composition, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

For a mild, easy action of the bowels, a single dose of Doan's Regulants is enough. Treatment cures habitual constipation. 25 cents a box. Ask your druggist for them.

Born in Iowa

Our family were all born and raised in Iowa, and have used Chamberlain's Colic, cholera and diarrhea remedy (made at Des Moines) for years. We know how good it is from long experience in the use of it. In fact, when in El Paso, Texas, the writer's life was saved by the prompt use of this remedy. We are now engaged in the mercantile business at Nacogdoches, Tex., and have introduced the remedy here. It has proven very successful and is constantly growing in favor.—Ennis Bros. This remedy is for sale by Jackson Drug Store, Spagnoli, prop.

THAT BIG BAR BRIDGE SCHEME.

Entirely independent of the proposition whether or not the supervisors have a right to purchase the Big Bar toll bridge, under the existing conditions, there is another legal question involved which is worthy of consideration. We have heard it said—and from a trustworthy source, that the purchase of this bridge is contemplated on the installment plan. There is no money available in the county treasury to purchase it outright for cash. But this fact seems not to phase the promoters in the least. If they haven't the money to pay down the credit of the counties concerned is good, and deferred payments will answer every purpose, equally as well as spot cash. This sort of talk may be all very well for individuals to indulge in; but with governing bodies it is different. Their conduct is fenced around with clear-cut statutory provisions. Where is the authority conferred upon them to buy a bridge—or anything else for that matter—on credit. On the contrary there is a strong prohibitory provision concerning such a cause, which the supervisors will do well to ponder over. Here it is:

No county shall incur any indebtedness or liability in any manner or for any purpose, exceeding in any year the income and revenue provided for it for such year, without the assent of two thirds of the qualified electors thereof, voting at an election to be held for that purpose, nor unless before or at the time of incurring such indebtedness provision shall be made for the collection of an annual tax sufficient to pay the interest on such indebtedness as it falls due, and also to constitute a sinking fund for the payment of the principal thereof, within twenty years from the time of contracting the same. Any indebtedness or liability incurred contrary to this provision shall be void.

ON THE IMPROVE.

An influx of the English speaking element into Jackson has been noticeable for several weeks past. A considerable portion of the new-comers are men of family, and this fact is also having a perceptible effect upon the business of the town. Vacant houses are scarce, hotels are filling up with boarders, and business generally is on the improve. True, money is not flush, because the employes at the mines have not received a full month's pay since the walk out over the eight hour law. As soon as the payment of wages at the mines reaches the normal, an improvement all along the line will no doubt be felt.

No Need of Suffering from Rheumatism

It is a mistake to allow anyone to suffer from rheumatism, as the pain can always be relieved, and in most cases a cure effected by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. The relief from pain which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. It makes sleep and rest possible. Even in cases of long standing this liniment should be used on account of the relief which it affords. Do not be discouraged until you have given it a trial. For sale by Jackson Drug Store, Spagnoli's, prop.

The Fourth Celebration.

Arrangements for the coming celebration are being pushed ahead. The rains last week did not do any damage to speak of to the big dancing platform. Lumber has been hauled to the north end of Main street for the erection of a platform there for the literary exercises in the afternoon. Voting for the goddess of liberty is proceeding slowly. Not much rivalry has been created on this score so far still there is ample time yet to awaken interest in this matter. Another dance will be given on the big platform tomorrow night—the last for the benefit of the committee prior to the fourth. The dance on July 2 will be for the benefit of the Masonic Band.

For a Sprained Ankle

As usually treated, a sprained ankle will disable the injured person for a month or more, but by applying Chamberlain's Liniment and observing the directions with each bottle faithfully, a cure may be effected in many cases in less than one week's time. This liniment is a most remarkable preparation. Try it for a sprain or bruise, or when laid up with chronic or muscular rheumatism, and you are certain to be delighted with the prompt relief which it affords. For sale by Jackson Drug Store, Spagnoli's, prop.

Cut Out Fireworks.

It is understood that the fourth of July management have cut out the fireworks as a part of the attractions of the fourth, on account of the danger from fire. This is a sensible move. It is hoped the laws against firecrackers and bombs in the streets will be strictly enforced. They are dangerous in many ways. It is pointed out that in the procession there will be a number of children in some of the floats, and anything that would tend to frighten the horses might result in serious accident.

Shoulder Dislocated.

Clark Coutright had his right shoulder dislocated Wednesday on his ranch on Stony creek. He went up to his horse, and took hold of the bridle for the purpose of leading him, when the animal pulled back suddenly, wrenching his shoulder out of place. He suffered greatly, for an hour or more. He came to Jackson as soon as possible, when the arm was put in place by Dr. Endicott. He is getting along nicely, although carrying his arm in a sling.

A Thrilling Rescue

How Bert R. Lean, of Cheny, Wash., was saved from a frightful death is a story to thrill the world. "A had cold," he writes, "brought on a desperate lung trouble that baffled an expert doctor here. Then I paid $10 to $15 a visit to a lung specialist in Spokane, who did not help me. Then I went to California, but without benefit. At last I used Dr. King's New Discovery, which completely cured me and now I am as well as ever." For lung trouble, bronchitis, coughs and colds, asthma, croup and whooping cough its supreme. 50c and $1. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Spanoli's Drug Store.

Complimentary to Judge Fred V. Wood.

Judge Fred V. Wood, who has been presiding in Department No. 2 of the superior court during Judge Waste's absence from the bench through sickness, returns tomorrow to Jackson, Amador county, to resume charge of his own court. As a former citizen and justice of peace in Oakland, Judge Wood is well known and has many friends in this city. After his removal to Contra Costa county he received the nomination there for superior judge, but failing of an election he was subsequently appointed by Governor Gillett, who recognized his worth and ability, to fill a vacancy on the bench of the superior court of Amador county.

During the time he has been acting for Judge Waste in department No. 2, Judge Wood has, through his uniform courtesy toward all who have had occasion to transact business before him as well as through his knowledge of the law and the fairness with which he has administered it, ingratiated himself into the good will of all, especially of the members of the legal profession, and in returning to Amador county he carries with him their best wishes for his future success.—Oakland Tribune.

Do Your Clothes Fit?

Watch the men as they walk along the street, some catch your attention, some don't. It's all the way a suit fits. A well fitted garment always attracts attention. It isn't easy to fit a man, because most men are built differently. It takes skill to do it. When men's clothes don't fit the idea is conveyed that somebody is trying to save money in the wrong place. My clothes fit in every sense of the word. Talent is modded in every-line. There is smartness, elegance and grace in every movement. A good suit is always an investment, not an expense. Try Wm. Ross, the tailor. Formerly Max Ladar's, Jackson, Cal.

Road Sprinkling.

In two road districts or townships in this county the sprinkling of the highways is an important item of cost. The road from Jackson to Sutter Creek and Amador is kept sprinkled. It traverses township one and four, so that two contracts would be necessary to cover such sprinkling. There is a considerable inquiry as to the manner in which the sprinkling agreement in road district four has been reached and the terms upon which that service is being done. We have consulted the minutes of the board of supervisors in regard to this matter, but found nothing therein that throws any enlightenment thereon. We find a provision that work on roads and bridges involving an expense of over a specified amount must be let by contract with the lowest bidder after due notice by publication. With respect to township one we find that bids were sent in to the supervisors at the May meeting and the contract was thereupon awarded to F. Mollignoni at $3.15 per day. The bids seem to have been presented in pursuance of written notices posted up at different points in the district calling for proposals. If this were the only notice given, and we fail to find any other authorized notice, it is extremely doubtful whether any legal contract for sprinkling has been let, or whether any money paid out in pursuance of such alleged contract is binding upon Amador county. No supervisor has authority to call for proposals for road work in his own name, even for his own district. Such authority cannot by any action of the board as a body. That duty devolves upon the clerk of the board, and cannot be taken from him. With regard to the sprinkling arrangement for township 4, it does not appear that the contract for the same has figured before the supervisors at all.

Neither do the bills presented and allowed by the supervisors this month throw any light on the subject. We know that the sprinkling wagon was on the road, and was at work during a portion at least of

May. But no bill for sprinkling appears among the claims allowed. We find, however, a claim of Nick Bernardis for labor, 21 days, for $52.50; and also a bill by Sam Hughes for labor with team for 20 days, $50. Whether these have any relation to the sprinkling business we are not prepared to say. It shows what loose, unbusiness like methods pass muster in road affairs when a bill framed in this wise is allowed without a word:

"To Nick Bernardis, 21 days labor at $2.50, $52.50."

This is all the information vouchsafed. It does not show when or where the work was done or what kind of labor. It may have been driving team or manual labor on roads, or any other kind for all we know the contrary.

As we are unable to discover from the records—which is the proper and only decisive place to look—any information concerning the status of the street sprinkling affairs in township 4, we would be glad if some resident of that township, who has knowledge of the facts, would enlighten a benighted public on this subject. Must we assume that some public spirited individual is furnishing horseflesh, etc., in this undertaking "without money and without price."

Economical Government.

In some of the states of the middle west they have a system of town government that is a model from an economical standpoint in comparison with the cost of running the average California incorporated town. We have before us a copy of the Dixon Journal, giving the receipts and expenses of the village of Concord, a self governing community, for the year ending April 30, 1909. This shows the receipts from all sources for the year to have been $1666.50. The total disbursements were $1053.30 and of this $500 was transferred to the school fund; so that the total expenses of the village government were $553.30. The total paid out for salaries, commissions, etc., was $107.75, and for printing $35.10; election expenses $7.75. In Nebraska they must have shifted the matter of local government to bedrock. The record is staggering when compared with California experience. In Jackson it costs nearly twice as much for one official salary as the whole town government is Nebraska in maintained for.

By paying all arrears, and $3 in advance Ledger subscribers can get Ledger and daily Bulletin for one year.

A grass fire started in the rear of the Katto dwelling house that was wrecked by fire a couple of years ago, opposite the north Main street bridge. It started in the grass near the fence along Summit street and burned a portion of the fence. A fire alarm was turned in. It was speedily extinguished.

W. D. Curtis, agent of the Woodland Grain Company, was making his tour of Amador county, in the interest of this excellent brand of flour. The ad of this flour will be found in another column.

Men who are willing to work should be protected from the bilks of various sorts who prey upon them. Every business office is visited daily by men and women with letters of recommendation who want money for all sorts of foolish purposes. The great majority of them are lady frauds. Farmers are pestered daily by bilks of a different class, but a class not less ravenous and tiresome. They are becoming a nuisance to business men, and should be suppressed. Every man should constitute himself into a committee of one to rid the country of these frauds.
